Gates Says Deadly Weapons Should Have Been Used

If Police Chief Daryl Gates had the power to do it over again, he would have used "deadly force" to quell the uprising that led to the nation's worst riot in 100 years.

Speaking at length for the first time since the riots ravaged the city, Gates conceded Friday that he made a mistake attending a political fund-raiser the night rioting began.

Being a gang member will be like wearing a "jheri curl or bellbottom pants," says Angelo Zen Adams, a former member of the Village Town Huslers Peru's.

Adams, who appeared on television twice this week is one of the motivating forces to make the truce called by Los Angeles Bloods and Crips successful. He and other members of the Future In Action, a nine month old mon profit organization formed by active gang and ex gang members to reach out and teach young children, (the right way).

Adams said if it were not for the riots, the gang members would not have been affected.

"After the Rodney King verdict, we could see that we were destroying one another. Our own little brothers and sisters could not go to the store alone," he said. Adams said, "we were sitting around and said to each other 'we're stupid, look at what we are doing, we just tore up the city.'"

The word went out that the two groups, the Grape Street Crips and Nickerson Bounty Hunters (Bloods) were to meet at Nickerson Gardens. What happened at that meeting still has Adams in awe.

"Bloods and Crips were hugging each other, sharing the same '40s,' (malt liquor) and smoking the same cigarettes."

"We had the cowboy mentality," said the articulate former dope dealer. "The same thing the cowboys did to each other we were doing. It was a reversal of history."

"This is as powerful as the Declaration of Independence. We are free from ignorance, injustice and Black on Black crime," he said.

"This is the first time in 20 years we can go into another neighborhood with no problems."

Adams, who appeared twice this week on Bryant Gumbel's, Today Show, is self described as an "Original Gangsta" (OG). Adams is 26 years old and says the 15 year old youngsters will follow him. Adams plans to lead them out of that lifestyle.

Adams was a good student who was active in every high school activity possible. He went to Long Beach State every year from 10th to 12th grade. In 1983, Adams got an after school job and did well. But his focus was on material things like cars, Nikes and jheri curls. He watched the dope dealers having all those things.

Adams said he did not smoke dope. "I never hit a joint," and he does not drink. However, he does admit to selling dope and being involved in gang activity, except for gang banging.

Adams said there are two types of gangsters, the dope dealer, who only intends on making money, and the gang banger, who is involved in drive-by shootings.

Adams admits there may be some splinter groups who attempt to break the truce because there is no sign up. "No one is under contract, no paper work. It's just a handshake, a physical and emotional thing. We are now viewing it like having a fight with a friend, shaking hands and it's over."

"We are still going to have gangs, but not the violence," he said.

The police and news media all think the truce will not last, indicated Adams. "They infiltrated Martin Luther King, Black Panthers', but Farrakan," who he admires, "does not allow them near him." It is impossible to talk to police because gangs have been misused by them. Adams calls the threats on policeman's lives in Los Angeles a "myth, not a fact. It won't be a fact until police start popping up dead." Adams believes it is the infiltrators that are going to cause the problems.

A channel two broadcaster said yesterday, "the truce was not holding" because a 13 year old was shot at school. That kid was not a member of a gang and was Hispanic.

"Finally, a format we have been looking for in America."

We can hang up our rags!

Hernandez & Eaves And The Absentee Ballot

The absentee ballot issue is again hot in San Bernardino and the case has been further complicated by a tape allegedly taken of Alphonso Smith a campaign worker for Ralph Hernandez and Terry Washington a campaign worker for Assemblyman Jerry Eaves.

Hernandez and Eaves are both candidates in the 5th District Supervisor race for the County of San Bernardino.

Hernandez accused Eaves of "dirty tricks."

Eaves gives this account. Terry Washington who's brother Doyle works for the Eaves campaign, decided to get allegedly incriminating information from Alphonso Smith. Smith was unaware of the tape being made. Eaves said Washington came to him first and offered the tape for $1,500. Eaves refused because it was illegal and called the Sheriff and the District attorney.

documents to support his contention the department was prepared for rioting.

"It was not a question of nerve," Gates said. "They would have faced anything. They were withdrawn by their leadership."

Gates conceded he made a mistake by attending a fund-raiser the night the riots broke out April 29.

"I should not have been at the Hernandez says in a press release, "it is clear that the Eaves plan was to plant someone in my campaign." Hernandez says it was a play by Eaves and Holcomb who are opposed to a City Charter Amendments will lessen the powers of the mayor.

Eaves said the original tape was doctored by Hernandez who had the tape all along. Hernandez, allegedly purchased the tape from Washington. Eaves charges he had the tape for two weeks, he bought it originally to keep the information from becoming public; he knew for a week that he Sheriff's department was looking for the tape as a part of a criminal investigation. We can only assume he held on to the tape to give him time to doctor it and add material that was not on the original.

The Sheriff's deputies swooped down on Washington's home last Monday looking for the tape.

"I have no excuses for that," he said. "I make no excuses. But it made no difference. We had field commanders in charge. I was in contact by cellular phone ... I was giving orders all the time. Still, I have absolutely no excuse for it."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DEAR EDITOR: (Husband Responds to Toyota Article)

This letter is in regard to the article published in your paper Thursday April 16, 1992. I would like to make it clear up front that this is only my opinion and my feelings about the injustice towards my wife. There were a lot of remarks made towards my wife which she felt she had to keep to herself or try to handle. There was however, one incident which my wife did confide in me about.

First I would like to give you a little background about us. I first met Dianne when I was 15 years old, and we were married on my 18th birthday. We have been together over 22 years total, which is a rarity in itself to have gotten married at such a young age. This is woman whom I love very much and will protect to the end. I was brought up to respect women and their rights. I have always treated my wife with respect and have never called her anything outside her name. So when I was told about the incident I went to the dealership to confront the individual. However, by the time I arrived the manager had this person out of the area. I talked to the manager about the incident speaking in a civilized manner but I did make it clear that I would not stand for this behavior. In truth I went there to beat the hell out of that individual.

My wife knows my temper about guys mistreating her that's one thing I will not stand for. Upon ending my conversation with the manager I told my wife if this happens again to call me. Unbeknown to me once I had left the manager, he himself had made a remark about my wife which she heard but did not inform me about until I read it in your paper. My wife, I believed, in her own infinite wisdom felt she was able to handle any further situation, also I feel she felt she was trying to protect me.

Further statements were apparently made to her without my knowing until she was fired and the law suit was initiated. I typed the statements for her first lawyer and was infuriated by the remarks made to her. I expressed these feelings towards her for which even now we still have not or do not understand why we both feel the way we do. She felt she should not bother me with every little problem (as she puts it), and myself being a man who loves his wife and wants to protect and respects her rights was in a rage about what had happened to her. There is nothing I would not do for this woman and I back her and stand beside her in what ever action she seeks or takes.

In closing I would like to say that the unrest in Los Angeles and across the United States resulted from the same problem encountered by my wife. We as African Americans must take a stand, however, not by violence but by not contributing to these establishments.

Sincerely
JERRY STEWART

DEAR MS. GIBBS:

(Letter to Marla Gibbs, guest speaker at Women of Achievement Luncheon 92)

I had the pleasure of attending the "Women of Achievement" luncheon on April 3, 1992, sponsored by the Black Voice News. Cheryl Brown is to be commended for her efforts in producing such a fine event and I am sure the honorees were quite impressed.

I was moved by the quality of the content of your presentation. I am a White male that went to high school and college in the '60s. I vividly remember the nightly news broadcasts of race riots, Martin Luther-King speeches and impromptu, emotionally charged debates on my college campus.

For many years, I have heard the loud voice of extremism from all sides. Last Friday you spoke of reason and of a world inhabited by responsible people accountable for their actions.

I have personally been affected by affirmative action. I listened to my grandfather speak with hate of those not like us, but I have never found any comfort in the judgement of a person because of the color of their skin. Your speech boosted my optimism about a future that includes an understanding and respect for each others' cultures.

I hope I have the opportunity to once again hear you speak. You are a credit to your race ... the human race!

Sincerely,
Jim Burns

King Case A Travesty Of Justice

JOHN E. JACOB

Justice was mugged twice in the Rodney King case.

Once in March, 1991, when the Black motorist was savagely beaten by Los Angeles police officers, and again when a jury that did not include any African Americans acquitted the officers of well documented charges that included assault and excessive force. The videotapes of the incident establish beyond any shadow of doubt that King was no threat to the arresting officers and that whatever force was necessary was exceeded within seconds. Certainly, there was no justification for police officers to continue slugging and kicking a defenseless, unarmed man lying in the street at their feet. After the beating got nationwide attention, thanks to that videotape, a torrent of evidence of racist attitudes and actions by police officers poured out of Los Angeles. The King case will serve as a symbol of injustice for years to come. More important, it will be a catalyst for re-examining the racism that continues to pervade our criminal justice system. That's already happened, as many police departments were spurred to institute safeguards to ensure that such incidents don't occur in their jurisdictions. But even common-sense steps such as performance monitoring systems that try to identify and retrain police officers who exceed their authority will not be

On April 29th, when that Simi Valley jury returned the "Not Guilty" verdict in favor of the four White Police officers, whose act of brutality against Black motorist Rodney King, was witnessed by the nation and the world, it was though we were experiencing a "Flashback" to another time, and another place.

Before the civil right campaigns & Freedom Marches of the 60s, and prior to the landmark Supreme Court decision of Brown vs School Board (1954), the failure of tribunals in the deep south to return convictions of White men in assaults against

DEAR EDITOR:

The Greater Riverside Area Urban League, the NAACP, the African-American Chamber of Commerce, the Economic Network, the Riverside Black Clergy Association, the Inland Counties Inner Faith, and the African-American Attorneys Association of the Inland Empire join forces to voice our outrage over the verdict reached in the Rodney King Trial. The jury's verdict sends a clear message to us that African-Americans lives are at risk.

The fact that there was no African-American representation on the jury which found all four Los Angeles policemen innocent of any crime proves that we are not worth counting. The fact that the jury issued a not guilty verdict is an insult to the intelligence of any American that viewed the video tape and watched the trial proceedings on their televisions which showed the cruel and inhumane beating of this citizen.

It clearly indicates that there is no justice for African-Americans. The Latesha Harlin murder at the hands of a Korean grocer, to the death of the rights of Rodney King, at the hands of an insensitive and brainwashed jury, further supports our position that the justice system has devalued African-American life.

Justice has eluded us again. The rights of all Americans were attached yesterday. We are all outraged.

What must we do? Organize!!! This injustice will not and cannot be justified.

African American community and all citizens who believe in justice keep up the pressure for reforming police departments and the justice system. Washington has an important role to play in ensuring justice, and it should act fast. The Justice Department's study of police brutality, inaugurated last March, should be swiftly concluded and should include strong recommendations for federal monitoring and intervention where there is a pattern of racial abuse. And the Justice Department should attempt to correct the miscarriage of justice in the King case by bringing federal charges against the officers for violating Mr. King's civil rights. The King case violates the most elementary principles of justice, and it's up to all of us to set the system right.

Simi Valley "...That Twelve Man Jury..."

Black citizens was usual and customary.

In this day and age, post Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., post John F. Kennedy, post W.E.B. DuBois, we take comfort in believing that such racially biased juries are aberrations rather than the rule.

It is an interesting exercise to imagine the Simi Valley trial outcome if, Rodney King, were White, and the four accused police officers Black.

It is often difficult to understand the positions of certain community & spiritual leaders such as Catholic Archbishop Joseph Mahoney, who expresses his sadness over the property damage in the streets of L.A., while remaining mum on the bodily harm inflicted upon Rodney King, or the lenient sentence (no jail time) meted out to the the Korean shopkeeper convicted of murdering Natasha Harlan a few short months ago.

It would appear that certain leaders, in their zeal to distance themselves from negative fallout, fail to realize that it is possible to condemn violence and unlawful acts of acknowledge that there is legitimate and widespread discontent when the citizenry feels betrayed by the Justice System.

If we lived in an ideal world, the formula to effect peaceful, non-violent, redress would be universally available. In such a world there would be no need for Federal troops in Los Angeles, nor F-15s flying over Baghdad; General Noriega would have shown up for his court date in Florida without Panama City having to undergo bombardment, and the Boston Tea Party would never have occurred.

Stereotyping Of Black Males Must Stop

BY MILLICENT REID
THE COLUMBUS TIMES

When you pick up the paper or watch television news casts - one thing is certain - you are going to see Black males in the worse light as drug dealers, drug users or just down right criminals. However, the facts dispute many well held stereo-types - according to Dr. Jewelle Taylor Gibbs, in an article entitled, "Called Everything, But A Child of God."

According to Dr. Gibbs, there are "the five D's which have been commonly used to describe young Black men: defiant, disturbed, delinquent, disadvantaged, and dumb." Images like these are used to reinforce existing stereo-types which many have held for a long time.

Dr. Gibbs believes that we must challenge the stereo-types about Black males. She has listed what she considers to be the most damaging misconceptions and stereotypes. They are as follows:

1. We can't educate them;
"The Media fosters the myth that Black males are dropping out of high school in ever-increasing numbers, but the figures often cited - of 40 to 60 percent high school dropout rates for Black males - are misleading. The national high school drop-out rate for young Black males has steadily decreased since 1960, high school completion rates have improved dramatically. In 1970, only 54.8 percent of Black males between the ages of 18 and 24 had completed high school, but in 1989 over 72 percent had achieved this goal."

2. Why don't they get jobs?

The popular belief that many young Black males are not working because they are lazy or unmotivated is cruel and false. The real reasons why unemployment rates among young Black men actively seeking work has nearly tripled over the last 30 years are: 1). The nation's economy has shifted from primarily manufacturing and agriculture to high technology, providing fewer unskilled and semi-skilled jobs for youths; 2). Jobs have moved out of the industrial cities of the north and midwest (where there are large concentrations of Blacks) and into the suburbs and sunbelt states; 3). Black youth are competing with other minority youths, Black youth are competing with other minority youths, immigrants, and women who are entering the labor force at accelerated rates and who are often viewed as less troublesome employees; and 4). Low-income Black youth in inner cities usually do not have the transportation needed to reach jobs in the suburbs or the mobility to follow the expansion of economic opportunities in the Sunbelt and the west.

Tips For Having Healthy Children

How stress can affect your unborn child

Women once believed that if a pregnant woman was scared by a snake in the forest, her baby would be born with a snake-like mark on her skin. The days of old wives tales and mystical beliefs about pregnancy are now long past, and medical advances have given us a direct view of the womb that women a century ago could not have dreamed of. Surprisingly, in some ways, we're finding that the old wives weren't all that far off.

The events which occur in a mother's life while she is pregnant, and her response to them, can have lifelong effects on her child's physical and mental well-being.

And Alan F. Gurrmacher, M.D., one of many doctors and scientists who have written about the effects of a pregnant mother's stress on her child, says in Life Before Birth that "There is solid, scientific evidence that a strong emotion in a pregnant woman can produce a reaction in her child. Furthermore, scientists are reasonably sure that in some cases a prolonged emotional disturbance in a mother during pregnancy can, in some cases cause a whole behavior pattern in a child after birth."

But the pioneer in studying the effects of stress on the child in the womb was L. Ron Hubbard, who said in 1950 in the best selling book Dianetics that "it is a remarkable fact, a scientific fact, that the healthiest children come from the happiest mothers... A happy mother has very little trouble."

QUESTION: Can you give me some tips for safe grilling?

ANSWER: As we approach the beginning of summer, Memorial Day is the time when people pull their grills out of the back closets. Follow these safe grilling tips.

• Avoid flare-ups and charred food, remove visible fat from meat.

• Don't partially cook food unless it will go immediately onto the grill.

• Marinate foods only in the refrigerator. Reserve a portion of the marinade, before raw meat is placed in it, for use later in basting or as a dip for cooked food.

• If cooking ahead, cook completely, then cool down fast for reheating later.

• Cook meat and fish thoroughly to 160°F. Cook poultry to 180°F; flesh should not be pink and juices should run clear.

• Serve food from the grill on a clean platter, not one that has raw, possibly contaminated juices on it.

QUESTION: Why do I need to marinate my meat in the refrigerator?

ANSWER: Even though the acid that you use in your marinade sauce will slow bacterial growth, it will not stop it. So everything that you marinate should be done in the refrigerator to ensure that your marinated product is safe. Source: Food News for Consumers, Summer 1991.

3. Black males are lost to drugs.

The images of the Black male as drug addicts or drug dealer pervades the American media. This stereo-type grossly misrepresents to actual incidence of drug use by Black youth, and it illustrates the hypocrisy of a society that views substance abuse by Blacks and White differently. Film and television generally depict the drug problem as having a Black face. However, figures from the national Institute of Drug Abuse, Whites account for 80 percent and Blacks for 20 percent of overall illicit drug use.

4. Blacks are killing each other off.

Some observers have erroneously claimed that Black males would live just as long as White males if homicide rates among young Blacks were not so high. It is true that homicide is the leading cause of death for young Black males, but the mortality rate of young Black men from a number of diseases is also higher than any other subgroup. Thousands of Black males die prematurely every year from causes such as childhood asthma, diabetes, hypertension, and cardiovascular attacks.

5. Lock 'em up.

The theme of young Black males as a criminal menace is a mainstay of popular film, t.v. fiction, and docudramas as well as news stories in the print and electronic media. In 1990, criminal justice authorities released the alarming statistics that nearly one of every four Black males, ages 20 to 29 was involved in the criminal justice system - in jail in probation, or on parole. However, there is one statistic that has gone unnoticed: Three of every four young adult Black males are not involving in criminal behavior. According to juvenile experts Black youth tend to be arrested, booked, convicted, and incarcerated at higher rates than White youth who are committing similar crimes.

Have you had enough of stereotyping all Black males? If not, you had better start to know the true facts which should lessen stereo-types and bigotry. We can't afford to go into the twenty first century with them.

OUR BODIES

By Ernest C. Levister, Jr., M.D., F.A.C.P.

NEW HYDROCORTISONE

Dear Dr. Levister: I have a minor skin irritation caused by cologne. One prescription, hydrocortisone ointment, has proven relatively ineffective in the past. Is the improved version worth trying? L.C.E.

Dear L.C.E.: Yes. The new ointment, which also comes in lotion form, is a 1% formulation of hydrocortisone, twice the strength of the old 0.5% kind.

Hydrocortisone is a hormone that the body manufactures; it has long been known to be useful for treating certain skin conditions, especially insect bites as well as rashes and itches resulting from hypersensitivity to plants, cosmetics and the like.

The trouble with the old 0.5 formulation is its low potency that is, it is relatively ineffective. The trouble with the new 1 ointment is that while it is more likely to relieve itching and promote healing in some cases, it can make matters worse if applied to the wrong skin disorder.

Hydrocortisone generally should not be used by itself on any eruption caused by fungi, viruses or bacteria (for example, athlete's feet, ringworm, cold sores or infected areas). If you are sure what your problem is - say an allergy to a new soap, fragrance or a mosquito bite - then try the new ointment.

Often it's difficult for a doctor to diagnose exactly what is causing rashes and eruptions. If you aren't sure or if the ointment hasn't helped within 72 hours, see a doctor. Avoid using the ointment over long periods if your skin eruption is extensive.

Parents - if you plan to use the new hydrocortisone for your child you may want to check with his or her pediatrician. In most cases short term use would be alright. Keep in mind that a child's skin is more sensitive than an adult's skin.

Dr. Levister welcomes reader mail concerning their body but regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters. Your letters will be incorporated into the column as space permits. You may direct your letters to Dr. Levister in care of Voice News, P.O. Box 1581, Riverside, CA 92502.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SCOPING MEETING: Improvements to State Route 91

WHAT'S BEING PLANNED?

The California Department of Transportation (CALTRANS) in cooperation with the Riverside County Transportation Commission (RCTC) is conducting environmental and engineering studies for a proposed project to widen a 5 mile segment of State Route 91 to add one lane in each direction. The widening project under study would provide new lanes in addition to those currently under construction in the freeway median. The limits of the proposed improvements are in Riverside County from the intersection of State Route 71 to the intersection of Interstate 15. The purpose of the project is to increase the capacity and improve the operation of State Route 91 in order to accommodate existing and future traffic demand. The studies will involve the preparation of preliminary engineering plans, a Project Report, and an Environmental Document. The study limits are illustrated in the map below.

WHY THIS NOTICE?

A preliminary environmental significance checklist was prepared and it has been determined that an Initial Study/Environmental Assessment will be prepared in accordance with the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). This notice is to inform you that a Scoping Meeting will be conducted and to invite your participation.

WHY HAVE THIS MEETING?

The purpose of the Scoping Meeting is to identify engineering and environmental concerns, define the issues and alternatives that will be examined in detail in the Initial Study/Environmental Assessment, and to facilitate the preparation of preliminary engineering plans. Project staff will begin the Scoping Meeting with a short presentation describing project background, engineering/design issues and environmental issues already identified. Following the presentation, there will be an opportunity for questions and answers.

WHERE YOU COME IN

Your input will help to identify engineering and environmental issues to be addressed in the engineering plans and the Initial Study Environmental Assessment. The Scoping Meeting is the beginning of the environmental review process and it is an important way of identifying potential project impacts.

WHEN AND WHERE

Vital Challenge

BY GARY C. ROBERTS

Do we have to be pushed before we change?

Knowing what we are up against is an important element in this process. Understanding the uses of money, inflation, government securities, mutual funds, bonds, and the full spectrum of financial services and opportunities which are open to us is mandatory for our survival. We simply need to know.

Self-help begins with self-preservation. The only way to get from one to the other is by action. Determining where we are and where we want to go is an important step, but it takes action to get us there. When we find ourselves in an uncomfortable position and forced to make changes, it is action which helps in making the transition worthwhile. As many of us have painfully discovered in filing for bankruptcy, divorce, medical care or financial aid, if we would have acted when we should have our suffering would have been shortened.

Knowing that we don't know and being open to new thoughts and old ideas is a vital challenge of our time. This resistance to the old and new in search of the bazaar to report to you is something we will try to avoid in this column. We hope to present information and insight into financial matters which you can use and benefit from. Information which is necessary, pertinent and hopefully stimulating and provocative. Let's make some money!

Homebuyers Beware.....

BY CARLOS

A couple preparing to purchase a home recently asked the question, What is the difference in the relationship or duty owed by real estate licensee's to sellers and buyers.

In order to answer the question we must consider several elements. First, the nature of the relationship owed by a real estate to his or her client or customer. According to Civil Code Section 2295, "An agent is one who represents another, called the principal, in dealings with third persons. Such representation is called agency."

When a seller hires real estate licensee to undertake the task of selling the seller's home and signs a listing agreement, an agency relationship is created. The agent owes loyalty to the principal (seller) and a duty created by a fiduciary relationship which the law compares to the duty owed to a beneficiary by a trustee under a trust (Civil Code Section 2228 et seq.).

In most real estate transactions the real estate broker acts as an agent for someone else (principal) who seeks to sell or purchase (exchange etc.) from a third party. From the agency relationship a vast body of rules has emerged that govern the rights and duties of principals, agents and third parties.

The next element to consider is the term "fiduciary". The term is derived from the Roman law, and means (as a noun) a person holding the character of a trustee, or a character analogous to that of a trustee, in respect to the trust and confidence involved in it and the scrupulous good faith and candor which it requires. This fiduciary duty is to seller and not to the buyer.

Although a truthful relationship is owed to third parties (buyers) which includes reasonable skill and care, fair dealing and good faith in each transaction. Would you not prefer to be represented with the same degree as the seller which includes fiduciary relationship? In order to achieve this objective you, as the buyer, should ask to be represented by a buyers agent or broker. In this way you too will be entitled to the utmost care, integrity and loyalty in your next transaction. Be sure to employ your agent by contract. In most cases the fee will be paid by the seller ..... only in America!

Ridley Thomas Directs Clean-Up Efforts For South Central

Los Angeles City Councilman Mark Ridley-Thomas and his staff are directing relief efforts to restore city and consumer services to South Central L.A. residents living in neighborhoods ravaged by two days of social unrest.

Councilman Ridley-Thomas has been appointed by Council President John Ferraro to chair the Los Angeles City Council's Ad Hoc Committee on Recovery. The committee will oversee and coordinate City efforts to assist communities in recovering from damage from the recent violence.

"The City of Los Angeles is experiencing a profound social crisis of an unprecedented level," said Councilman Ridley-Thomas. "Although we are all stunned by the recent violence, we cannot let this cause us to retreat."

"We must not lose our resolve that we can make our community better even in the face of what is a substantial setback for our city."

Councilman Ridley-Thomas and his 8th District staff have started a concerted effort to restore basic city and consumer services for district residents and are making a block-by-block assessment of damages and services in neighborhoods. The 8th District is one of the areas hit hardest by the recent violence.

Faith Temple Celebrates Anniversary

Faith Temple invites the public to come and share in the celebration of Pastor and wife Joseph L. Sim's 21st anniversary May 28-31 at the Riverside Faith Temple, 2355 Pennsylvania Ave., Riverside, CA 92507.

On September 19, 1971, a group of 4 people met for the purpose of organizing a church. The church was organized, named and placed under the leadership of Pastor Joseph L. Sims. Thus a new church was established in the Riverside area.

After 1 year of searching the Inland Area, a place in which to worship became reality in the form of a small Chinese Cultural School Building in the Casa Blanca area. After much praying, cleaning, painting, preparation was made for the first Sunday service. The message was on "FAITH".

The church grew, a choir was formed, another bus was added and the church had outgrown the building. God had began to form a church unto Himself.

Prayers go up...visions are seen...prophecies go forth. One building is tried then another and still no affirmative answer from God. Then sent His people into the wilderness (Mira Loma) to worship and work.

Spirit of speculation, doubt and fear Faith Temple moved into the new edifice. God blessed, more prayer went up, new visions were seen, more prophecies went forth and again it was time to move. On October 1, 1982, the church moved into its current location, 2355 Pennsylvania Ave., Riverside.

"As we look back, our faith has been challenged but through it all it has strengthened our belief and trust in God. We have learned when we put God first, He will give the increase. We give Him all the glory and praise for what He is doing for Faith Temple," said Pastor Joseph L. Sims.

For more information call the church office at (714) 788-0170.

Book Traces Biblical Heritage Of Blacks

Jackie (Mrs. Leon) Fowler of Tulsa, Oklahoma has written a book tracing the biblical heritage of Blacks. Due out June 1, the book titled "MY PEOPLE Are Destroyed for Lack of Knowledge: A biblical Account in Chart Form" began as a Bible study tool for the two Fowler children, LaKeisha, 13, and Leon II, 10. The Fowlers were then involved in a weekly Bible study conducted by a local evangelist with a vision for restoring biblical heritage to the Black family. "We caught the vision," explains the author, "then we taught it to our children."

Because she seemed to always be getting bogged down by the many "begets" of the Old Testament -- which were crucial in her efforts to trace her family's biblical lineage -- Mrs. Fowler drew simple charts detailing the complex "family tree" of the Black man's bible heritage. "One morning at about three a.m., the Holy Spirit spoke to my spirit and said, "Jackie ... this is for more than your children: I want you to share these charts and this truth with My children!"

Having never before considered writing a book, she began with prayer. "I told the Lord I didn't know how to write a book!" she laughed. The book she didn't know how to write is now a reality -- and she's already planning future publishing endeavors. "There were many obstacles, and at one point it looked like there wasn't going to be a book. but the Lord is faithful," Mrs. Fowler, an accountant, noted.

As it quickly evolved, "MY PEOPLE" became a family project for the Fowlers. While Jackie handled the writing and editorial responsibilities, her children took part in the cover design under the guidance of a freelance artist. Leon Fowler, a Tulsa physician, wrote the copy of the back cover of his wife's book. "We wanted it to be OUR book," Mrs. Fowler noted. "It was our vision as a family -- and it's for other families. That's why it was important that our whole family be involved."

"MY PEOPLE" is unique both in concept and in message. It took approximately six months to research and to write. Mrs. Fowler hand-wrote the original manuscript, drawing her own charts. As the project progressed, she hired a freelance editor to get the manuscript ready for print. With minimal copy, "MY PEOPLE" combines Bible references with results of scientific studies and excerpts of articles from leading publications including National Geographic and Newsweek. The charts she designed depict the Black man's heritage, from the Garden of Eden to Jesus Christ. It's easy enough for a child to understand.

But the very adult message is for Blacks who are interested in tracing their biblical roots and rediscovering the Bible identity -- and in the process, personal worth and self-esteem. "The statistics are staggering," noted Mrs. Fowler. "So many Blacks are strung out on drugs. The divorce rate is alarmingly high. Prisons are filled with Black men and women. And gangs are stealing our children. I pray this message will give Black men, women, and children their biblical identities back, and when that happens, they will see how important they are to God's plan for mankind and that He has a plan for their lives today.

"My purposes in writing this book is to give a race of people (Blacks) a knowledge and understanding of their culture and examples of Black biblical role models," the author explained.

"MY PEOPLE" will retail for $7.95 per copy and will be available at local book outlets, and from writing the author at: Fowler Enterprises, P.O. Box 1327, Tulsa, Oklahoma, 74101. Tulsans can meet the author at an autograph party at S. & J. Bookstore in mid - June.

Questions & Answers

Dr. Reginald Woods

CHRISTIANS IN POLITICS

QUESTION: Dear Dr. Woods, My question is should Christians get involved with politics? I know that the Lord is our banner and protector, but how do we affect government if we are not involved?

C.P. Rialto, CA

ANSWER: We as Christians must and absolutely should be involved with politics. Why? Because political figures lead our communities. If we don't have sound leadership we will be led into destruction. Matthew 15:14 says "Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind both shall fall into the ditch." A true man or woman of God has the potential to be a true leader - one that has the people at heart and not self interest.

On the other hand, those that are called to what is known as the 5-fold ministry gifts, that is apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers should stick to what God has called them to do.

The very first responsibility that every Christian believer has concerning politics is described in 1st Timothy 2:1-4. We are exhorted to pray for "all that are in authority." This admonition applies whether the elected official is Black or White, Democrat or Republican, whether you like or dislike or agree with or disagree with that individual. We must pray for all elected officials. Why? So that they make wise and upright decisions and that peace and justice prevail in our society allowing free access to the preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Additionally, there are those Christians that need to run for offices and get into elected positions. It is easier to work with a leader that listens to God.

If you have a question that you would like answered, write: Dr. Reginald L. Woods, Life Changing Ministries, P.O. Box 9778, San Bernardino, CA 92424-9778.

Abide In Me

MAR'SHEILA K. HODGES

Reflecting on the trials of life worry shadowed on your brow you try to put hope in the future but your anxieties are here and now.

Many say there is no reason security or optimism for a better day there is no confidence in good for tomorrow the sky appears blue when it is really grey.

Put away all doubt, says One His breath drying your tears the mighty hand of one called "God" is reaching down to dismiss your fears.

Strength comes from the Father so put your petition in to the One who controls all things and can free your mind from the burden of sin.

Trust in Him whose peace is sure commit to him the keeping of your heart the tie of love can never be broken 'cept you chose yourself to depart.

Let nothing entice you to choose another master the allurements of this world is Satan's plan keep your eyes fixed upon Jesus when others crumble - you shall stand!

Prophecy must be fulfilled this world will shudder and quake in th midst of total confusion God calls his people to "Awake!"

Hold on to me - do not be afraid though your shoul trembles by what it may see Remember, I am with you always, take courage and, ABIDE IN ME

MULTICULTURE IN ACTION: Creekside Elementary school presented an outstanding International Dance Festival at the Canyon Spring High School in the Gym May 7. It was a thrill to see students dressed in costumes that represented many different countries performing as a group. An audience of parents, teachers and friends had a wonderful relaxing time as they listened to music from other countries and watched children dance who were members of all races. They were very happy as they danced together to music that was designed to spread joy. The dances performed and their country were: Dana Filipina-Philippines, LA Rapa-Mexico, Sukiyaki-Japan, Camptown Race Races-USA, African Rhythms-Africa, Danza Rusa-Russia, La Bikina -Chile, Cuando Los Huaraches Se Acaban-Bolivia, Danza Alemana-Germany, Zorba The Greek-Greece, Kuwait March-Kuwait, Guantanamo-Cuba, Austrian Dance-Austria, Condor Pasa-Peru, Shaha Malecu-Egypt, and Love is Blue-France. Mrs. Angela Briz-Garcia and Mrs. Diana Leon taught the dances and provided the beautiful costumes.

A New World: I walked up and down Pico and Western St. in L.A. last Sunday talking to people on the street and local business men. The burnt out buildings in the area seem to be bars and liquor stores. I spoke to a young Black man named Anthony, he was telling me about some new world order that is coming into being, his theory was that the Black race and the White race has had a chance to run the world and they have failed. He was very interesting to listen to. I believe we should all do the most we can for our children, especially while they are in school. We could develop a values program that could put love, christian love back on the map. This is a prayer I keep with me at all times. Our father, in the midst of the complicated situations of life and the unsolved problems of the world, deliver Thy servants from any sense of futility. Let them feel the support of the prayers of a host of true patriots throughout this land and, above all, uplift of the everlasting arms.

One person can make a difference, one person can destroy the heart and mind of a child or many children. One person can open the hearts and minds of children, can instill a feeling of true worth and human dignity that will enable a child to surmount the tragedies of poverty, of prejudice, of futility.

We need to go not further than the nearest classroom to find who is already beaten by life, a child who thinks he or she is nobody. Just one person can at least help them feel that they are somebody. That person is you or me.

Let us work together and help develop a better world for our children. The schools need everyones help. As I continue my prayer in the time of need: Cause them to understand that God's power has never been obstructed by difficulties, nor his love limited by the confusion of human plans. May the very failure of man's best resources impel us toward the resources God".

The television industry can do better than they are doing for children by bringing more value oriented and christian programs to the public. I realize they are promoting what provides the most capital (money), however money is no good if there is no one left with brains enough to enjoy themselves except destroying others. My prayer further says: Cleanse our heart of selfishness. Grant that all questions immediately before us may be made so plain that we shall have no foreboding as we make our decision, nor vain regrets after it is made. For Jesus sake. Amen.

Yes God is real: I had the pleasure of attending and speaking at "Land Middle School" dedication program, Sat, May 9th. It was wonderful to listen backgrounds. There is definitely hope in this country if we would maintain the support of our education system. Just a kind word will help the child know that we all care about them and want them to have a happy productive education.

Yes, we have problems, and will continue to have problems, however with the positive attitudes of the citizens of Moreno Valley, we will overcome them all. Because we know that God is real.

Now hear this: Parents, youth, teachers, and others; you will never be happy and glad, if you spend your time trying to make others miserable and sad. By working together, we can be happy.

Gray Davis Visits Inland Empire

State Controller Gray Davis was in town recently to meet and greet the church going community in one of his stops around the state. Davis is a candidate in the Senatorial election and the only candidate who is taking their campaign to the people.

Davis got an ear full as he not only worshiped with congregations at four local church, but fellowshiped following services with local residents.

His first stop was Amos Temple CME, Rev. James Washington is pastor. Davis told the congregation about his record in the field of education.

The next service, Second Baptist, T. Ellsworth Gantt, pastor, Gray Davis again addressed the congregation and spoke about his stand on what is right for the constituents.

At New Hope Church, LeMar Foster, pastor, Davis was introduced and said he need them to win.

Later he said he did not take the people for granted and felt it was necessary to ask for their vote. Many had questions for him. Many had comments on how his office helped in given situations. There was a social following the morning service.

Rev. Charles Brooks, pastor of St. Paul AME, greeted Davis, who spoke about education. Davis related the story of Richmond, California. Governor Pete Wilson told Davis to close it down because they were bankrupt. Davis refused and took the matter to the State Supreme Court. They sided with Davis and the schools were kept open.

LEADERSHIP MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

Fremont High School is blazing a new trail to success and achievement under the capable leadership of a principal who says "Yes I Can!" Mr. John is the captain of the Fremont ship and even on stormy seas the vessel remains a float and mooring. "Students are first." That is the constant pass word of Mr. Haydel. His doors are always open to students. That is his ultimate commitment. "We are here to serve our students, that is our number one responsibility says Mr. Haydel, and I will not retreat from that critical challenge." As seen in the picture, Mr. Haydel spends much of his time interacting with the Fremont students. He is frequently seen relaxing on the beautiful award winning spacious green campus engaging students in meaningful conversation. No problem is too small, no obstacle too great for this tireless principal. His clock beats to the heart of the students' need. Mrs. DeLeon, a parent of an honor student, states, "Mr. Haydel is like a father and a leader. You know he cares for our children and will everything he can to protect and guide them." Mrs. DeLeon expresses the opinion of most of the parents of Fremont High.
